Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Results of Operations

Fidelity Global Financial Services Fund ("Fund"), Series B, returned -19.1%, after fees and expenses, for the six-month period ended September 30, 2011. The net returns of the other series of this Fund are similar to those of Series B, except for differences attributable to expense structures. By way of comparison, the Fund underperformed the MSCI World Index, broadly representative of world equities, which returned -10.3%. The performance of financial stocks during the period was influenced by policy response to the sovereign crisis, together with the growth outlook for global economies. This meant that stocks in the financial sector with above average fundamentals were sold-off alongside companies with weaker prospects due to uncertainty in both areas.

The Fund's benchmark, the MSCI ACWI (All Country World) Financials Index, returned -19.9% for the six-month period under review. The Fund outperformed the specific benchmark primarily due to security selection in diversified financial services. At the end of the review period, the Fund had an exposure of 10.5% to the diversified financial services, compared with a benchmark exposure of about 10.0%.

During the review period, markets remained volatile, due to increasing uncertainty about the prospects for a resolution to the sovereign debt crisis in Europe and a weak outlook for global economic growth. The European Central Bank introduced liquidity measures to help support the region's banking system, while the Federal Reserve implemented a program of buying government bonds of intermediate and longer term maturities in an effort to bring down long-term interest rates and keep borrowing costs affordable. U.S. President Barack Obama proposed a package of tax cuts and spending plans aimed at creating jobs, in response to persistent high rates of unemployment in the U.S. Efforts to tighten monetary policies in emerging markets such as China and India have begun to slow their economic growth, causing oil and other commodity prices to decline. Gold also declined, after surging at the beginning of the review period.

Sotiris Boutsis, who is a member of the Global Equity Team, manages the Fund. During the period, Mr. Boutsis continued to focus on high-quality stocks with valuation upside and on stocks that have solid fundamentals. With the monetary system coming into question, Mr. Boutsis believes that real asset backing is an attractive feature. Within this theme, he likes stocks with a sustainable dividend yield and either real assets on their balance sheet or exposure to commodity economies. The Fund is overweight in REITs, with a focus on names with low refinancing risk, because the manager expects the market to discriminate based on balance sheet strength and refinancing vulnerability. Given the unpredictable policy outlook in Europe, Mr. Boutsis has maintained exposure to more volatile names that have good rebound potential, a dominant franchise, high return on assets and real asset exposure. During the period, the manager increased exposure to selected stock the emerging markets on attractive valuations.

Recent Developments

Portfolio manager Sotiris Boutsis believes that there is currently little visibility in the financial system, due to the regulatory and political uncertainties that characterize the corporate and economic environment; therefore, he aims to maintain flexibility in the portfolio amid the prevailing uncertainty. Accordingly, his focus is on investing in quality businesses that either stand to benefit from faster growth and increased penetration in emerging markets or will outperform against a backdrop of slower growth in western markets. His preference is for businesses showing improving fundamentals (such as market share, product mix or pricing improvements, new strategic approach, etc.) that can translate into a meaningful impact on margins, credit costs or return on equity. He is also focused on long-term winners and on special situations candidates that offer a definite upside, relative to current valuations.

As at the end of the period, the Fund had its largest overweight exposure to the REITs, while its largest underweight exposure was to commercial banks relative to the benchmark. However, commercial banks accounted for the Fund's largest absolute exposure, with the manager maintaining exposure to long-term winners with stable cash flows.

Accounting Standards

Changeover to International Financial Reporting Standards

The Canadian Accounting Standards Board (AcSB) of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA) had planned to adopt International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), as published by the International Accounting Standards Board, effective January 1, 2011. In January 2011, the AcSB deferred the adoption of IFRS for investment companies, which include investment funds. Investment companies may continue to apply existing GAAP standards until fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2013.

Fidelity Global Financial Services Fund
Management Discussion of Fund Performance – continued

The manager is reviewing and developing a plan to meet the above timetable for changeover to IFRS. The impact of IFRS on accounting policies and implementation decisions will mainly be in the areas of presentations and disclosures in the financial statements of the Fund. Currently, two significant areas that may impact the presentation are IAS 32 Financial Instruments: Presentation, and IAS 27 Consolidated and Separate Financial Statements. The manager is currently assessing the Fund's unitholder structure and investments to determine the impact of these standards. The manager has currently not identified any changes that will impact net asset value per unit (NAVPU) as a result of the changeover to IFRS. However, this present determination is subject to change resulting from the issuance of new standards or new interpretations of existing standards.

^A Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of units outstanding over the financial period. This table is not intended to be a reconciliation of beginning to ending net assets per unit.

^B Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional units of the Fund, or both, and excludes distributions of management fee reductions to unitholders.

^C This information is provided as at period end of the year shown.

^D Management expense ratio is based on total expenses for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset values during the period.

^E The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high portfolio turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is calculated based on the lesser of purchases or sales of securities divided by the weighted average market value of the portfolio securities, excluding short-term securities.

^F The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period.

^G For fiscal periods beginning on or after October 1, 2006, the net assets per unit is calculated in accordance with Section 3855 of the CICA Handbook.

Past Performance

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the investment fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional securities of the investment fund. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or other optional charges that would have reduced returns or performance. How the investment fund has performed in the past does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

On January 10, 2005, Fidelity stopped offering Series A with the initial sales charge ("ISC") option and created Series B, which is only available with the ISC option, and transferred the existing Series A ISC units into the new Series. Series B management fees are lower than Series A. Returns for Series B include the actual returns for units when they were available as Series A ISC units.

Fidelity's mutual funds are sold by registered Investment Professionals. Each Fund has a simplified prospectus, which contains important information on the Fund, including its investment objective, purchase options, and applicable charges. Please obtain a copy of the prospectus, read it carefully, and consult your Investment Professional before investing. As with any investment, there are risks to investing in mutual funds. There is no assurance that any Fund will achieve its investment objective, and its net asset value, yield, and investment return will fluctuate from time to time with market conditions. Investors may experience a gain or loss when they sell their units in any Fidelity Fund. Fidelity Global Funds may be more volatile than other Fidelity Funds as they concentrate investments in one sector and in fewer issuers; no single Fund is intended to be a complete diversified investment program. Past performance is no assurance or indicator of future returns. There is no assurance that either Fidelity Canadian Money Market Fund or Fidelity U.S. Money Market Fund will be able to maintain its net asset value at a constant amount. The breakdown of Fund investments is presented to illustrate the way in which a Fund may invest, and may not be representative of a Fund's current or future investments. A Fund's investments may change at any time.
