Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

Investment Objective: Fidelity Global Large Cap Fund ("Fund") aims to achieve long-term capital growth by investing primarily in equity securities of large-capitalization companies located anywhere in the world.

Strategies: The Fund seeks to invest in sectors in approximately the same proportions as those sectors are represented in the MSCI ACWI (All Country World) Index. The managers aim to maintain the weighted average market capitalization of the Fund's investments at an amount that is greater than or equal to 50% of the weighted average market capitalization of the MSCI ACWI (All Country World) Index.

Risk

The risks associated with investing in the Fund remain same as discussed in the prospectus. Any changes to the investment fund over the period have not affected the overall level of risk of the investment fund. The Fund is suitable for long-term investors wishing to add the growth potential of large companies located anywhere in the world to their portfolio and willing to accept an average level of risk. The suitability of the investment has not changed from what has been disclosed in the prospectus.

Results of Operations

The Fund started operations on April 4, 2011, and its Series B has returned -17.4% since commencement of operations, after fees and expenses. The net returns of the other series of this Fund are similar to those of Series B, except for differences attributable to expense structures. By way of comparison, the MSCI ACWI (All Country World) Index, broadly representative of world equities, returned -11.7% (in Canadian dollar terms) since the Fund's commencement of operations. The Fund's return figures are for less than a six-month period, from the commencement of operations on April 4, 2011, to the end of this reporting period, September 30, 2011. These performance numbers refer to a short period and therefore are not indicative of the success of the investment strategy employed by the Fund.

During the review period, markets remained volatile, due to increasing uncertainty about the prospects for a resolution to the sovereign debt crisis in Europe and a weak outlook for global economic growth. In addition, the earthquake and resulting tsunami in Japan occurred during the review period; its impact had an adverse effect on global economic growth, and also led investors to grow increasingly wary of riskier assets. The European Central Bank introduced liquidity measures to help support the region's banking system, while the Federal Reserve implemented a program of buying government bonds of intermediate and longer term maturities in an effort to bring down long-term interest rates and keep borrowing costs affordable. Efforts to tighten monetary policies in emerging markets such as China and India have begun to slow their economic growth, causing oil and other commodity prices to decline. Gold prices also declined, after surging at the beginning of the review period.

During the period under review, portfolio manager John Power and his team kept the sector weightings closely in line with the benchmark, with security selection driving incremental returns.

As at September 30, 2011, the Fund had an overweight exposure to diversified financials, while banks and insurance were underweighted. The Fund also maintained an overweight exposure to consumer durables and apparel.

In terms of country allocation, the Fund had an overweight exposure to U.S. equities, while not holding any Canadian equities. The Fund's country allocations are driven by bottom-up stock selection.

Recent Developments

Portfolio manager John Power believes that a lack of transparency and an effective response from EU leaders in resolving the debt crisis has led to an increase in volatility, or a "risk on, risk off" market. In this environment, Mr. Power is limiting the riskiness of the fund relative to the market; he believes that large-cap U.S. stocks benefit from a perception that they are safe. Mr. Power believes that emerging markets economies are the major driver for global growth, in sectors ranging from consumer discretionary and health care to energy. Given positive trends in emerging markets, Mr. Power will invest in developed market companies in these sectors that are likely to benefit from their enormous penetration in emerging markets.

The Fund's sector weightings remain closely aligned with those of the ten Global Industry Classification Standard sectors of the MSCI ACWI (All Country World) Index, reflecting the intention to add return through stock selection, not through active sector allocation. However, stock selection may drive positive or negative allocations, relative to the Index, at the industry level.

Fidelity Global Large Cap Fund Management Discussion of Fund Performance – continued

As at September 30, 2011, the Fund had its largest absolute exposure to the financials sector followed by information technology. In terms of country allocation, U.S. accounted for the Fund's largest absolute exposure.

Fidelity Global Large Cap Currency Neutral Class became a holder of more than 10% of the outstanding units of the Fund in the period ended September 30, 2011.

Accounting Standards

Changeover to International Financial Reporting Standards

The Canadian Accounting Standards Board (AcSB) of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants (CICA) had planned to adopt International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), as published by the International Accounting Standards Board, effective January 1, 2011. In January 2011, the AcSB deferred the adoption of IFRS for investment companies, which include investment funds. Investment companies may continue to apply existing GAAP standards until fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2013.

The manager is reviewing and developing a plan to meet the above timetable for changeover to IFRS. The impact of IFRS on accounting policies and implementation decisions will mainly be in the areas of presentations and disclosures in the financial statements of the Fund. Currently, two significant areas that may impact the presentation are IAS 32, Financial Instruments: Presentation, and IAS 27, Consolidated and Separate Financial Statements. The manager is currently assessing the Fund's unitholder structure and investments to determine the impact of these standards. The manager has currently not identified any changes that will impact net asset value per unit (NAVPU) as a result of the changeover to IFRS. However, this present determination is subject to change resulting from the issuance of new standards or new interpretations of existing standards.

^E Management expense ratio is based on total expenses for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset values during the period.

^F The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high portfolio turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is calculated based on the lesser of purchases or sales of securities divided by the weighted average market value of the portfolio securities, excluding short-term securities.

^G The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period.

^H The net assets per unit is calculated in accordance with Section 3855 of the CICA Handbook.

Management and Advisory Fees

Fidelity serves as manager of the Fund and Pyramis serves as the investment advisor of the Fund. The Fund pays Fidelity and Pyramis a monthly management and advisory fee for their services, based on the average net assets of each Series, calculated daily.

For new Funds or Series the amounts presented may not be indicative of longer term operating periods.

Fidelity's mutual funds are sold by registered Investment Professionals. Each Fund has a simplified prospectus, which contains important information on the Fund, including its investment objective, purchase options, and applicable charges. Please obtain a copy of the prospectus, read it carefully, and consult your Investment Professional before investing. As with any investment, there are risks to investing in mutual funds. There is no assurance that any Fund will achieve its investment objective, and its net asset value, yield, and investment return will fluctuate from time to time with market conditions. Investors may experience a gain or loss when they sell their units in any Fidelity Fund. Fidelity Global Funds may be more volatile than other Fidelity Funds as they concentrate investments in one sector and in fewer issuers; no single Fund is intended to be a complete diversified investment program. Past performance is no assurance or indicator of future returns. There is no assurance that either Fidelity Canadian Money Market Fund or Fidelity U.S. Money Market Fund will be able to maintain its net asset value at a constant amount. The breakdown of Fund investments is presented to illustrate the way in which a Fund may invest, and may not be representative of a Fund's current or future investments. A Fund's investments may change at any time.
