Caution Regarding Forward-looking Statements

Certain portions of this report, including, but not limited to, “Results of Operations” and “Recent Developments”, may contain forward-looking statements about the Fund, including its strategy, risks, expected performance and condition. Forward-looking statements include statements that are predictive in nature, that depend upon or refer to future events or conditions, or that include words such as “expects”, “anticipates”, “intends”, “plans”, “believes”, “estimates” and similar forward-looking expressions or negative versions thereof.

In addition, any statement that may be made concerning future performance, strategies or prospects, and possible future Fund action, is also a forward-looking statement. Forward-looking statements are based on current expectations and projections about future events and are inherently subject to, among other things, risks, uncertainties and assumptions about the Fund and economic factors. Accordingly, assumptions concerning future economic and other factors may prove to be incorrect at a future date.

Forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance, and actual events and results could differ materially from those expressed or implied in any forward-looking statements made by the Fund. Any number of important factors could contribute to these digressions, including, but not limited to, general economic, political and market factors in North America and internationally, interest and foreign exchange rates, global equity and capital markets, business competition, technological change, changes in government regulations, unexpected judicial or regulatory proceedings, and catastrophic events.

It should be stressed that the above-mentioned list of important factors is not exhaustive. You are encouraged to consider these and other factors carefully before making any investment decisions and you are urged to avoid placing undue reliance on forward-looking statements. Further, you should be aware of the fact that the Fund has no specific intention of updating any forward-looking statements whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, prior to the release of the next Management Report of Fund Performance.

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Results of Operations

Securities of this Fund are only available for purchase by other funds and accounts managed or advised by Fidelity, and are not available for public purchase.

Fidelity U.S. Growth Opportunities Investment Trust (Fund), Series O, returned 17.2%, for the six-month period ended December 31, 2024. During the review period, U.S. equities, as represented by the S&P 500 Index, returned 14.0% (in Canadian dollar terms).

Market overview:

U.S. equities, as measured by the S&P 500 Index, returned 14.0% in Canadian dollar terms and 8.4% in U.S. dollar terms, for the six-month period ended December 31, 2024.

U.S. equities rose over the review period as expectations of monetary policy easing and continued corporate earnings growth supported investor sentiment. An anticipation of further tax cuts, expansionary fiscal policy, and possibilities of a protectionist trade stance further supported equity markets. The consumer discretionary and financials sectors gained the most from these developments. Additionally, cyclical sectors, including real estate and industrials, also generated positive returns. Investor optimism in the artificial intelligence initially boosted gains in the information technology and communication services sectors but faced volatility in the latter part of the review period due to concerns about stretched valuations. Defensive sectors, such as utilities and consumer staples, also gained as investors looked for stability amidst ongoing market volatility. The U.S. economy exhibited healthy growth, expanding by an annualized rate of 2.8% in the third quarter, supported by robust consumer and government spending. However, geopolitical risks, mixed economic signals in the U.S., and the U.S. Federal Reserve's (the Fed) adoption of a more cautious approach to its monetary policy easing cycle introduced some volatility. Over the period under review, the Fed reduced its benchmark interest rate (the Fed Funds Rate) thrice in subsequent meetings, from 5.5% to 5.0% in the September meeting, from 5.0% to 4.75% in the November meeting, and from 4.75% to 4.5% in the December meeting. U.S. inflation, as measured by the consumer price index, increased to 2.9% in December 2024, however headline inflation remains lower than the reported 3.0% in June 2024.

Factors affecting performance:

The Fund's benchmark, the Russell 1000 Growth Index, returned 16.1% for the review period. The Fund outperformed its benchmark primarily due to investments in, and higher-than-benchmark exposure to, the communication services sector. In this sector, an investment in U.S.-based video streaming services company Roku and an out-of-benchmark exposure to Singapore-based consumer internet firm Sea Limited contributed to relative returns. In addition, exposure to certain stocks in the information technology sector contributed to relative returns. In this sector, an investment in U.S.-based semiconductor firm Marvell Technology and an out-of-benchmark exposure to U.S.-based electronics manufacturing services firm Flex contributed to relative returns. In other sectors, an investment in U.S.-based used car dealer Carvana contributed to relative returns.

In contrast, investments in, and lower-than-benchmark exposure to, the consumer discretionary sector detracted from relative returns. In this sector, a lower-than-benchmark exposure to U.S.-based automotive and clean energy firm Tesla detracted from relative returns. In addition, investments in certain stocks in the industrials sector detracted from relative returns. In this sector, out-of-benchmark exposure to U.S.-based aerospace manufacturing firm Relativity Space and U.S.-based energy solutions firm NextTracker detracted from relative returns. In other sectors, out-of-benchmark exposure to Netherlands-based semiconductor firm NXP Semiconductors and U.S.-based technology firm Snap detracted from relative returns.

At the end of the review period, the Fund had no exposure to NextTracker or Snap.

Portfolio changes:

During the review period, the Fund's exposure to the financials and consumer discretionary sectors was increased. In the financials sector, the portfolio manager increased exposure to U.S.-based payment technology firm Visa. In the consumer discretionary sector, exposure was increased to U.S.-based automotive and clean energy firm Tesla, given its attractive long-term growth potential, in the portfolio manager's view.

In contrast, exposure to the health care and industrials sectors was decreased. In the health care sector, the portfolio manager exited a position in U.S.-based health care insurance and services firm UnitedHealth Group. In the industrials sector, exposure was reduced to U.S.-based transportation firm Uber Technologies.

At the end of the review period, the Fund had its largest absolute exposure to the information technology sector, followed by the communication services sector. The Fund diverged most from its benchmark's sector weightings by having more exposure to the communication services sector and less exposure to the consumer discretionary sector.

Recent Developments

Portfolio managers Kyle Weaver and Becky Baker focus on companies they believe have strong fundamentals that appear to be attractively valued based on a long-term investment horizon, typically from three to seven years. The portfolio managers stress the importance of having a portfolio of stocks that is likely to behave differently during different types of markets. The portfolio managers continue to focus on companies that they expect to benefit from long-term secular themes, such as AI, that may affect the more growth-oriented sectors, such as information technology and communication services, and is seeking opportunities across a wide variety of sectors.

Fidelity U.S. Growth Opportunities Investment Trust

Management Discussion of Fund Performance – continued

Fidelity provides or arranges for the provision of all general management and administrative services required by the Fund in its day-to-day operations, bookkeeping, record-keeping and other administrative services for the Fund.

Fidelity is the portfolio adviser to the Fund and it provides investment advisory services to the Fund. Fidelity has entered into sub-advisory agreements with a number of entities including Fidelity Management & Research Company LLC, to provide investment advice with respect to all or a portion of the investments of the Fund. The sub-advisors arrange for acquisition and disposition of portfolio investments, including all necessary brokerage arrangements. The Fund is only offered in Series O securities and is only available to: (i) institutional investors who may be individuals or financial institutions who have been approved by Fidelity and have entered into Series O fund purchase agreements with Fidelity; or (ii) other funds and accounts managed or advised by Fidelity. The Fund does not pay management and advisory fees, or other operating expenses, other than certain specified fund costs, including taxes, brokerage commissions and interest charges.

Brokerage Commissions

The Fund may place a portion of its portfolio transactions with brokerage firms which are affiliates of Fidelity, provided it determines that these affiliates' trade execution abilities and costs are comparable to those of non-affiliated, qualified brokerage firms, on an execution-only basis. Commissions paid to brokerage firms that are affiliates of Fidelity Investments were $1,000 for the period ended December 31, 2024. Fidelity receives standing instructions from the IRC in respect of policies and procedures governing best execution of transactions with affiliates, which includes brokers affiliated to Fidelity Investments, at least once per year.

Independent Review Committee, Cross-Trading and In specie Transactions

Independent Review Committee

Fidelity has established an independent review committee (IRC) that acts as an impartial and independent committee to review and provide recommendations or, if appropriate, approvals respecting conflict of interest matters referred to it by Fidelity. The IRC prepares, at least annually, a report of its activities for securityholders of the Fund. The report is available at www.fidelity.ca or at the securityholder's request at no cost by contacting Fidelity, using the contact information available on the final page of this document.

Cross-Trading and In specie Transactions

The Fund received the approval and standing instructions from the IRC in order to:

- (i) engage in cross-trading, which is a form of interfund trading. A cross-trade occurs when the Fund purchases or sells portfolio securities from or to another Fund, a U.S. fund or a separately managed account, through a broker;
- (ii) permit the Fund, in certain circumstances, to purchase and redeem Fund securities in consideration for securities rather than cash of another investment fund not governed by NI 81-102, or a separately managed account, managed by Fidelity.

For each of the transactions in (i) and (ii) above, the IRC's standing instructions require Fidelity to act in accordance with its associated policies and procedures and applicable law, and comply with the conditions in each of the exemptive relief orders received, which, in the case of cross-trading, requires additional periodic reporting to the Ontario Securities Commission. The standing instructions also require that investment decisions in respect of these transactions (a) are free from any influence by an entity related to Fidelity and without taking into account any consideration relevant to an entity related to Fidelity; (b) represent the business judgment of Fidelity uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the Fund; (c) comply with the applicable policies and procedures of Fidelity; and (d) achieve a fair and reasonable result for the Fund.

^A For the period January 7, 2020 (inception date) to June 30, 2020.

^B This information is derived from the Fund's audited annual and/or unaudited interim financial statements. The net assets attributable to securityholders per security presented in the financial statements may differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. An explanation of these differences can be found in the notes to financial statements.

^C Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of securities outstanding at the relevant time. The increase (decrease) from operations is based on the weighted average number of securities outstanding over the financial period. This table is not intended to be a reconciliation of beginning to ending net assets per security.

^D Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional securities of the Fund, or both, and excludes any applicable distributions of management fee reduction to securityholders. Distributions are presented based on management's best estimate of the tax character.

^E This information is provided as at period end of the year shown.

^F Prior period amounts may have been adjusted.

^G Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding distributions, commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset values during the period, including the Fund's pro-rata share of estimated expenses incurred in any underlying investment fund, if applicable, (2024: —%, 2024: —%, 2023: —%, 2022: —%, 2021: .01%, 2020: .01%).

^H The trading expense ratio represents total commissions, other portfolio transaction costs and dividends and interest expense on securities sold short expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period, including the Fund's pro-rata share of estimated trading costs incurred in any underlying investment fund, if applicable.

^I The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher the Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high portfolio turnover rate and the performance of the Fund. The portfolio turnover rate is calculated based on the lesser of purchases or sales of securities divided by the weighted average market value of portfolio securities owned by the Fund, excluding short-term securities. The portfolio turnover rate includes any proceeds from a short sale in the value of sales of securities and the cost of covering a short sale in the value of purchases of securities. For periods greater than six months, but less than a full fiscal year, the portfolio turnover rate is annualized. The portfolio turnover rate excludes any adjustment for in-kind transactions.

Past Performance

The performance information shown assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional securities of the Fund. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or other optional charges that would have reduced returns or performance. How the Fund has performed in the past does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

Year-by-Year Returns

The following bar chart shows the Fund’s annual performance for each of the years shown, and illustrates how the Fund’s performance was changed from year to year. In percentage terms, the bar chart shows how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have grown or decreased by the last day of each financial year. For each Series in the Year-by-Year Returns table below, the most recent returns stated are for the current six month period.
