

Fidelity Inflation-Focused Fund

Voiceover: Are you worried about inflation? It makes sense. Anything that could have an adverse effect on hard-earned money should be concerning.

And because inflation is so hard to predict, it helps to always be ready.

Ready with a strategy that's centred on inflation.

Introducing Fidelity Inflation-Focused Fund.

Created to focus on one thing: investing in asset classes that are collectively resilient to inflation.

We consider sectors like gold, real estate, natural resources, inflation-linked bonds and more.

It's been built to provide market exposure whether inflation rises or not.

Fidelity Inflation-Focused Fund.

An effective way to diversify any portfolio to help mitigate the negative effects of inflation while aiming to take advantage of the positive outcomes an inflationary cycle can create.

Fidelity Investments.

Here to help you stay ahead of inflation.
